Letter of Recommendation

To,
University College London,
United Kingdom

It gives me great pleasure to endorse Prachi Khamkar's candidacy for the MRes in Pharmaceutical Research programme at UCL, London. At the moment, I am the Principal and Professor of Pharmaceutical Technology at Ashokrao Mane College of Pharmacy, Kolhapur. Even though I haven't taught or supervised Prachi in over three years, I remember her for her original ideas that she shown as a student.

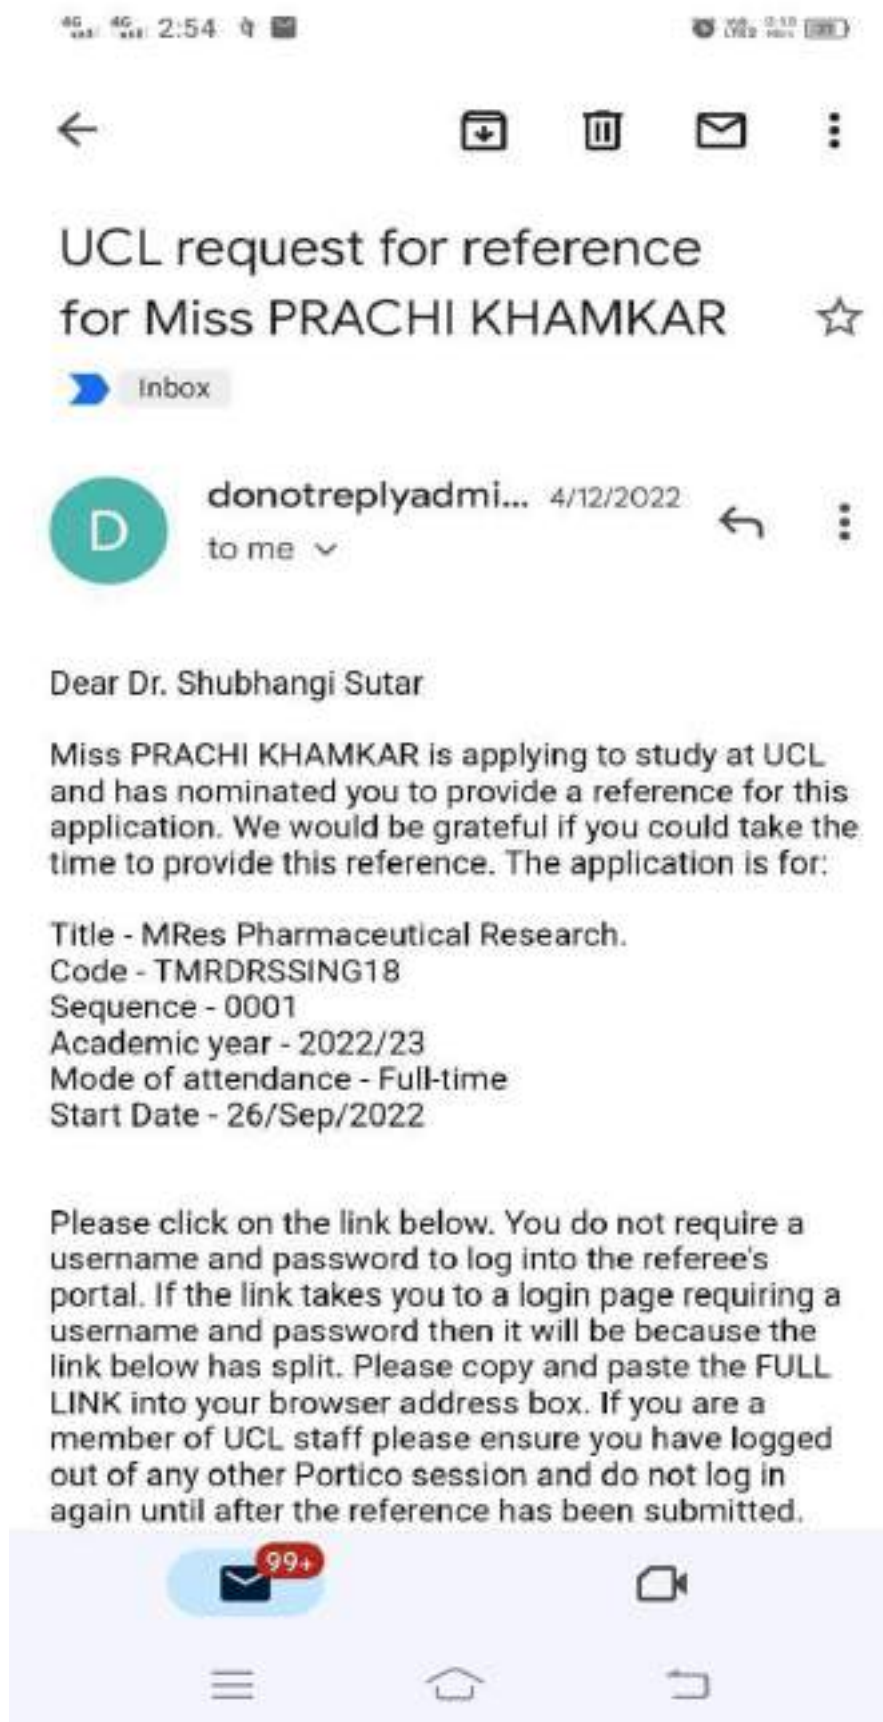

Prachi was well-known among the junior students. Whenever students contacted her, she actively assisted them in their academics or projects. Her time management abilities also amazed me. She was always on time for her lessons, and she never missed a deadline. Despite the fact that she had numerous tasks to complete in a semester, she did not postpone submissions or request extensions. She attended seminars and participated in technical events in addition to her academic work. In 2017, her passion for formulation design earned her a prize at a national level event hosted by the Yasho Tech Fest.

It comes as no surprise to me that she is still interested in pursuing a M.Res. in Pharmaceutical Research after four years of professional course. Prachi's research studies at your university are highly recommended by me. Her strong drive to learn and explore will
