Best practice No. 1

1. Title of the Practice: Mentorship / Counseling of Students

2. Objectives of the Practice: Mentorship / Counseling of Students System was implemented in the institute, with a vision to advance the educational and personal growth of students. The Institute adapted a practice to counsel and monitor the progress of the mentee in every aspect related to curricular co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. The main objectives of Mentorship / Counseling of Students are,

1. To continuously counsel and monitor academic performance of students including their academic performance in Internal and External assessment examinations.
2. To identify and resolve personal and health related issues by discussing with the mentee.
3. To Establish a relationship of trust.
4. To Share own relevant experiences.

3. The Context: The students are allotted to each mentor as mentor teacher in the beginning of first semester and mentors are remain associated with students up to final year. All mentors are guiding mentees at various levels like academics, ethics, values, and career opportunities. When mentee get admitted to the program, they take time to get acquainted with new environment, syllabus, examination pattern etc. Once the students get acclimatized with the program, the mentor's role now shifts to guidance for achieving excellence. During the course mentor guide the students to prepare for various competitive exams and groom students for developing their personalities. Mentor counsels students regarding health and fitness related issues and is always there to take care of students.

4. The Practice: Mentor always works to increase the trust and confidence among mentee and parents. For each mentor 15-25 mentee are allocated. Mentor regularly interacts with the students and Students are counseled by the mentors, class advisors, subject faculties and HOD for improving their academic performance. Mentors and Class Advisors counsel the students regarding their performance.

The duties of mentors:

1. Mentor should give confidence to students through their cooperative, kind behavior so that students can freely discuss their problems.
2. Conduct regular meetings, monitor performance and attendance, identify difficulties, and suggest remedies.
3. During interaction, any genuine problems like General stress, Lack of self-confidence, parental separations, Loneliness and Homesickness, Depression etc. observed forward the case to the Principal if psychological counseling is required.
4. Advise students on all academic activities as a part of curriculum, preparation of competitive examinations, developing soft skill, planning and execution etc.
5. Mentor meet students individually or in groups to offer guidance and counseling, as and when required, in isolated cases parents are called for counseling/ special meeting with the Principal at the suggestion of the Mentor.

5. Evidence of Success: Academic performance of some students in exams has been significantly improved after receiving guidance from their mentor. The mentor effectively helped to resolve personal issues and take care of their mentees for any health issue. Mentor system was successful in achieving their career goals.

6. Problems encountered and resources required: As such there is no any major problem encountered but the academic performance varies for each student in each semester examination need to be monitored continuously.
